You jump. With VR. Its fun.. Spawn in to nothing but a simple tutorial then go to a black world with 7 or more platforms then spawn me back where i started. This game is trashy af. I found this to be the scariest game I have for my VIVE. Jumping around low was OK, but as I started to get higher I was getting quite worried. Its a great game, but can give you a bit of motion sickness I found, which I dont get in any other game except Windlands. Not the games fault as such, its the nature of the experience I think.

I dont understand people on STEAM who complain they lost money on a game, as some have on this section. STEAM are very accomodating on refunds, you just have to do it quite quickly and not play the game for too long.

It doesnt take long to work out if you dont like a game. Just get a refund :). i cant get over the second level!

but the game looks very good. Awesome fun, like being a super hero. May induce a fear of heights!

Jump provides a smooth motion VR experience whereby the player can navigate the citiscapes of awesome locales. It brings accessibility to casual VR players while still providing challenge for those that want a more difficult experience (like me). For $9.99 jump provides an awesome VR experience everyone can quickly understand. The art is simple but reflective, the controls are responsive, and the fluidity is excellent.

This is a highly recommended VR experience for the casual VR gamer or the person who played time trials in Mirror's Edge. Cant get over Level 2. What can i do Now? the Trailer Looks Pretty nice But i cant get over level 2 . Don't buy this♥♥♥♥♥game.. Nifty little platform jumping game, but not very challenging. You will need strong VR legs for this one.

I'd wait for a sale or the price to drop a bit before picking this one up.. Seriously one of the best and most addicting VR games I've ever played. Don't let it's simple premise fool you: you will in fact get a huge rush jumping from building to building to it's smooth techno soundtrack.. Wow, what can I say, this really feels like you are in a virtual world - I was literally falling off my chair since my body forgot it was on earth. The stylized visuals are fresh, it stands out a lot from all the gritty games we see coming out. It's nice to see something with a graphically crisp and a well designed game experience. I definitely will be playing more of their games. Give it a try!. Looks awesome, but I get tons of judder when moving my head. Totally unplayable. I don't have this problem with most games. Running a 970 here. Updated to latest runtime (0.6.0.1) but still the same. I'm sad.. Having so much fun with this! I'm totally afraid of heights but I think this might cure me.. This is the only game all my siblings liked the most I had it on my Gear VR. Now, on HTC Vive, the experience is same but with some improved graphics. I'm sensitive to motion sickness but this game doesn't give it to me. I don't know why people are complaining on motion sickness. Perhaps, some of them experienced it.

Overall, it is a great game for JUMPING building to building for a Matrix like experience :)

One suggestion is to allow using Vive Controller instead of Gamepad. I don't like using gamepad.. This game is inplayable with DK2... ton of judder... lost 10 dollars in this♥♥♥♥♥
